ACMT Award for Outstanding Service to the College

Purpose
The Award will honor a member who has rendered outstanding service to the American College of Medical Toxicology.

Criteria
Any member may nominate himself/herself or any other member who would be considered a role model. Outstanding service may include but is not limited to; longevity of committee service, chairmanship of committees, new program development or subcommittee creation and leadership, and lead authorship of position statements.

Nomination Procedures
Letters of nomination should offer detailed specific information regarding the nominee's contributions to the field of Medical Toxicology. An accompanying Curriculum Vitae is required.

Email: info@acmt.net (preferred)

or by mail to:
American College of Medical Toxicology
Attention: Awards Committee
10645 N. Tatum Blvd., Suite 200-111
Phoenix, AZ 85028

Award and Presentation
The recipient will be recognized at the ACMT Annual Scientific Meeting.

Judgment
Each year the Awards Committee will evaluate the new entries submitted and all previous nominees who were not given the award. The recommendations are subject to review by the ACMT Board of Directors. The decision of the Board is final, and the Board reserves the right to make no award if there are no nominees of sufficient merit.
ACMT Award for Outstanding Contribution to Medical Toxicology Education

Purpose
The Award will honor an ACMT member who has made significant contributions to the educational pursuits of medical toxicology.

Criteria
Any member of the College may nominate himself/herself or another member for this award. The nominee must be a member of the College. Examples of outstanding contributions may include but are not limited to; an outstanding teacher who has made an educational impact on medical toxicology, development of teaching methods (books, other publications, audiovisual teaching tools, and computer instruction), and outstanding service in medical toxicology fellowship training.

Nomination Procedures
Letters of nomination should offer detailed specific information regarding the nominee’s contributions to the field of Medical Toxicology. An accompanying Curriculum Vitae is required.

Email: info@acmt.net (preferred)

or by mail to:
American College of Medical Toxicology
Attention: Awards Committee (Education)
10645 N. Tatum Blvd., Suite 200-111
Phoenix, AZ 85028

Award and Presentation
The recipient will be recognized at the ACMT Annual Scientific Meeting.

Judgment
Each year the Awards Committee will evaluate the new entries submitted and all previous nominees who were not given the award. The recommendations are subject to review by the ACMT Board of Directors. The decision of the Board is final, and the Board reserves the right to make no award if there are no nominees of sufficient merit.
ACMT Award for Outstanding Contribution to Medical Toxicology Research

Purpose
The Award will be presented to a member of the College who has made significant research contributions in the field of medical toxicology.

Criteria
Any member of the College may nominate himself/herself or another member for this award. The nominee must be a member of the College. Examples of outstanding contributions may include but are not limited to; outstanding research either basic or clinical science, research contributions that have changed the practice of medical toxicology, and research innovation.

Nomination Procedures
Letters of nomination should offer detailed specific information regarding the nominee’s contributions to the field of Medical Toxicology. An accompanying Curriculum Vitae is required.

Email: info@acmt.net (preferred)

or by mail to:
American College of Medical Toxicology
Attention: Awards Committee (Research)
10645 N. Tatum Blvd., Suite 200-111
Phoenix, AZ 85028

Award and Presentation
The recipient will be recognized at the ACMT Annual Scientific Meeting.

Judgment
Each year the Awards Committee will evaluate the new entries submitted and all previous nominees who were not given the award. The recommendations are subject to review by the ACMT Board of Directors. The decision of the Board is final, and the Board reserves the right to make no award if there are no nominees of sufficient merit.